Truckers and the Economy 2009

Truckers Will Lead

Truckers have always been the overall leaders to restart the economy. In 2009 it will be impossible for the economy to recover without trucks. With the U.S. importing everything we need to manufacturing it again, that will mean freight, and a lot more of it, for truckers. "When you import that means pick up and deliver, when you make those goods domestically, that's a lot more ton miles."

Otherwise, it's going to take a heck of a lot more that just one truck, but truckers to deliver the goods and services.

Economic growth will get customers to spend, and when customers spend market's recover.

IT WILL BE GROWTH LED BY TRUCKERS!!
