January 2010 Happy New Years Newsletter

New Years Goals/AKA Resolutions

Well, here we are with a New Year full of challenges and opportunities. BMBGTP has worked hard along with everyone else to get around, over and under the hurdles that life presents to us. We have had to deal with year-end technical difficulties and a tough economic environment. We have also had to deal with health problems and numerous other challenges. But the bottom line is that these things have made us stronger and wiser.

BMBGTP has emerged with a fresh determination to provide the best information possible for the transportation industry and general motoring public. To this end we have a positive outlook for the welfare of our nation and the transportation arena. We hope that our supporters will continue to look to us and our Transportation/Information Portal for timely information.
